Introducing Suits and Coats of This Season

Fall and winter are welcome, indeed, when they bring such youthful, graceful suits and coats as these. You have heard much of the new vogue of straight-line effects and it will delight you to see this fashion in its most charming expression—these advance suits and coats for women who want to be well dressed. Remember, that first of all you want to see these garments because they are wonderful new models just coming into style—but this is not all. It is the tailoring, and these fabrics you need to keep your suit or coat fresh and smart even after months of steady wear. See the Woolltex and Printzess lines.

Becoming to Every Figure

Seldom indeed is a line of Suits so cleverly designed for both slender and stout figures. There are soft, ripple plaits in front and back, with a side panel set on from the hips and extending a little below the regular hem of the jacket. This clever feature gives long lines to the sides, making a Suit especially pleasing for large figures.

The lines of the Skirt follow those of the Jacket, with the same attractive features that make the Suit so pleasing.

The plain Tailored Suit for simplicity can often have more elegance than fussy ornamentation. In the Woolltex and Printzess lines at from $25.00 to $45.00, you will find some unusually smart Suit models.

See Our Line of Coats

The youthful appearance that the back of these clever models show, suggest equally beautiful lines in front. The side lines are equally attractive and carry that style and grace that are sure to appeal to all.

These Coats were bought early in the season, and you can surely have the utmost confidence that the prices are right. You will find very little advance in price over last season. Then, too, they are larger and fuller than last season's.

Many Coats, were we to buy them to-day, would cost from 15 to 20 per cent. advance. See this large line of popular Coats. Prices from $12.00 to $50.00.

Dry Goods of All Kinds

are somewhat higher in price than last season, but not so high in Barre as in other cities.

We have large stocks in all departments that were bought early. This means a saving to you, as well as to ourselves. Prices, considering present costs, are somewhat less than they will be six weeks later, when all merchants will have to assort up stocks at advance prices.

No one in business to-day is doing business at as close a margin of profit as the retail merchant of the United States.

At this time, when wool yarns are away up, we want to call your attention to the very low prices on our Wool Dress Goods. Forty-three-inch Sponged and Shrunken Serges at $1.00. A 44-in. White Egged Serge at $1.25, all sponged and shrunken. These for hardest wear; will wash perfectly.

You are aware of higher costs on all kinds of Silks. Our Silks by the yard are the same as last season, no more. We sample these goods and parcel post free. Your most satisfactory way of shopping.

Our winter stock of Blankets, Quilts and Comforters is all in. Our stock of Munsing Underwear and Black Cat Hosiery is now on our shelves, all up in quality, prices kept down.

You will be very much pleased with our whole stock of fall merchandise. It's the best lot that we have ever owned.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY THIS WEEK we will hold our 25th Anniversary Sale. Thursday's Times will have the announcement of this Anniversary Sale.

Just Back From New York

A Barre young man, Lieut. LePage, who enlisted in H company, gets the credit for directing the farmers' division in the 1st Vermont regiment, which has a flourishing war garden on the government reservation at Fort Ethan Allen. Crops valued at $500 were grown by the regimental farmers and now that the soldiers have departed from the post, the military authorities are wondering what shall be done with the wheat, beans and potatoes left in the garden. All summer a large contingent of men was employed in caring for the garden and the crops were expected to aid materially in the commissary department had the regiment remained until late in the fall. Lieut. LePage was the head farmer and had general charge of raising the crops.

TALK OF THE TOWN

See the many new coat models at Abbott's.

Yesterday was one of the quietest Labor days in a generation of endeavors on the part of organized labor in Barre. All business, barring that of a few stores, was suspended, but the occasion lacked the picnic activities and speechmaking usually stimulated by the efforts of the C. L. U. James Duncan, vice-president of the A. F. of L., and president of the G. C. I. A., one of the Labor day speakers of Barre in recent years, was addressing a crowd in Boston, and Hugh Frayne, another labor leader whose oratory was heard here on a Labor day not long since, was occupied in the affairs of one of the big war boards created by the government. Last evening the Barre pipe and drum band got a warm reception when it initiated the second of its City square concerts and for an hour a large crowd was entertained by the excellent music which the Scottish band is discoursing this summer.

Mr. McIntyre is the superintendent of dyeing in the Lancaster mills of Clinton and speaks optimistically of the future of the dyeing industry in America. Since the outbreak of the war in 1914, the development of dyeing in this country has been so rapid that all danger of a famine has been removed and as a result of the inventive genius of the American chemists, according to Mr. McIntyre, the United States will be independent of Germany in the matter of dyestuffs hereafter.
